Kathy DeBartolo

Kathy DeBartolo was a deeply dedicated and active member of her parish and cluster community, known for her quiet leadership, generous service, and warm ability to bring people together. In addition to her many volunteer roles, Kathy served as a valued member of the parish staff, generously contributing countless hours to office responsibilities and editing parish correspondence.

She served faithfully in many capacities, including as a Religious Education teacher, Lector, Sacristan, Greeter, and Bulletin Editor. Kathy played an important role on the Pastoral Council, serving both as a member and secretary, where her organization and commitment were invaluable. She lovingly cared for the church linens, supported social functions from setup to cleanup, attended meetings faithfully, and had a special gift for encouraging others to dance, socialize, and feel truly welcome. Even when parishioners moved away, Kathy ensured they were remembered and kept in touch, reflecting her enduring care for the community and connection.

Her life was a quiet testimony of service, faith, and love.

May she rest in eternal peace.

What Makes a Church Vibrant

In Summary
A church becomes vibrant when it is alive with faith, welcoming in spirit, active in service, and intentional about growth. It's not about size or resources—it's about cultivating a community where people feel God's presence and are moved to live out their faith together.
